

WILTON RESPONDING TO THE WORLD'S BIGGEST CHALLENGES

A delegation of councillors has heard how businesses at Wilton International are responding to some of the biggest challenges faced by society in 2019.

Almost 20 councillors from Redcar and Cleveland wards – including seven elected for the first time in May - spent three hours learning more about the products and processes of the seven main manufacturing firms as well as viewing the plants at close proximity.

Cleaner low carbon energy, the re-use of plastics and the challenges of Brexit for major importing and exporting firms were all discussed in a meeting hosted by SABIC and featuring contributions from Sembcorp, Lotte Chemical, Ensus and Huntsman.
