Introduction

At Sembcorp, we believe in building sustainable businesses that not only create economic value, but do so in a way that benefits our stakeholders. We are committed to working with suppliers who share the same principles of sustainability and ethical behaviour as we do. We aim to collaborate with our suppliers to maintain a resilient and sustainable supply chain.

Our Supplier Code of Conduct (“Code”) defines the minimum standards of practice we require from our suppliers, including subcontractors, to adhere to when providing any goods or services to Sembcorp.

All suppliers of Sembcorp, regardless of geographic location, and including their parent, subsidiary or affiliated entities, as well as others with whom they are engaged in business relationships, are required to follow this Code as part of any contract with Sembcorp. We also require our suppliers to disseminate this Code, educate and exercise diligence in verifying their own supply chains and to ensure their subcontractors are not in breach of the principles contained with this Code.

Application

Sembcorp will communicate this Code to current and new suppliers. Where further clarification is required, we will provide guidance on the provisions of this Code. Failure to respect and adhere to this Code shall impact directly the ability of suppliers to do business with Sembcorp (see section titled “Handling of non-compliance” for further information).

We will monitor the implementation of this Code and the performance of our suppliers against its requirements. For example, suppliers may be required to complete a self-assessment questionnaire, provide proof of statements made and demonstrate that this Code is adhered to. We also reserve the right to conduct supplier audits to verify compliance with this Code.

In selecting suppliers, Sembcorp will, in conjunction with selected evaluation criteria, expect all suppliers to show commitment to the principles contained within this Code.

At appropriate intervals, we will review the applicability of this Code and make revisions when deemed necessary. Changes will be communicated to suppliers.

Handling of non-compliance

While we will endeavour to work with suppliers through remedial action wherever possible, Sembcorp reserves the right to terminate a contract with any supplier who does not comply with the Code.

Where we believe our standards are not being effectively applied, we also reserve the right to suspend that supplier's contracts until satisfactory progress has been made or the issue has been resolved.

Reporting concerns

We want to hear from any individual or organisation who wishes to raise a query or concern, as well as report a possible violation or breach to this Code. We expect suppliers to ensure that any employees and subcontractors in good faith making such a report shall not be disciplined or discriminated against.

Reports can be raised to gia.cases@sembcorp.com, and will be passed to the relevant teams for appropriate handling.

We will consider each report seriously and undertake an investigation. We expect full supplier cooperation with any of such investigation. We will clarify the alleged violations against a supplier within a stipulated period of time, and take appropriate remedial action for proven violations.

Our expectations of suppliers

Compliance with laws:

Suppliers applying this Code must comply with local laws in the countries where they operate. Where the provision of the law and this Code address the same topic, suppliers are encouraged to follow the requirements that promote higher standards. If a supplier has any concerns regarding the application of this Code in light of local laws, we expect them to inform gia.cases@sembcorp.com. We are committed to working with all our suppliers to implement the highest standards wherever possible.

Business Ethics:

Sembcorp expects its suppliers to conduct their business in an ethical manner and to act with integrity, as set out in our Code of Conduct.

Anti-bribery and corruption

Suppliers must ensure they do not engage in any form of corruption, bribery, facilitation payments or fraud. Suppliers shall not offer any gifts or other benefits to Sembcorp employees, and/or anyone acting on Sembcorp's behalf that could improperly influence that employee or person. Sembcorp also prohibits anyone from engaging in bribery and corruption on our behalf.

Fair competition

Suppliers must compete fairly and in accordance with all applicable competition laws.

Privacy and intellectual property

In conducting all activities, suppliers are expected to only make appropriate use of personal data and confidential information, and ensure that all intellectual property rights are respected.

Conflict of interest

Suppliers must avoid situations where a conflict of interest may occur. They must immediately disclose to Sembcorp any conflict of interest that does arise or in exceptional circumstances, disclose the previously agreed procedure for dealing with any conflict of interest. Such conflicts of interest could include cases where a supplier's employee or professional under contract may have an interest or business relationship of any kind with Sembcorp's business or where that supplier may be acting on behalf of Sembcorp and a competitor of Sembcorp.

Labour and Human Rights:

Sembcorp supports the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and its implementation through the United Nations (UN) Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights. As such and in accordance with our Human Rights Policy, we expect suppliers to respect all human rights, including labour rights, throughout their business activities.

Equality and no discrimination

Suppliers are required to promote a fair and equitable work environment that is free from discrimination and harassment for all employees. This shall extend to ensuring terms of employment and its employment practices do not discriminate upon grounds of gender, race, and/or any other characteristic protected by applicable local law.

Modern slavery

Suppliers must prevent all forms of modern slavery from taking place in their operations, including forced and compulsory labour, bonded labour, and human trafficking.

Child labour

Suppliers must ensure their operations are free from the exploitation of child labour. Child labour, as defined by the International Labor Organization (ILO), refers to work that is mentally, physically, socially or morally harmful to children; or work that interferes with their schooling.

Freedom of association and collective bargaining

Suppliers must respect the right of employees to join trade unions, and associations and assemble freely without fear of reprisal, intimidation or harassment.

Rights of local communities

Suppliers must respect the land, resource and cultural rights of local communities and indigenous groups.

Health, Safety and Quality:

Suppliers are required to prevent and manage health and safety risks associated with their activities, products and services, in line with our Health, Safety and the Environment Policy.

Workplace health and safety

Supplier are required to implement effective health and safety prevention and remediation policies and procedures which comply with industry, national and international standards as well as Sembcorp's health and safety requirements. This also includes taking reasonable care to ensure all workers are protected against processes, substances and techniques, which are obnoxious, unhealthy, toxic or harmful.

Work environment and housing facilities

Supplier must provide a safe, clean, comfortable and hygienic working environment and, if applicable, residential or overnight facilities that meet the basic needs of the workers.

Product safety and quality

Suppliers are required to deliver products and services that meet the needs of Sembcorp and that are in line with recognised and contractually agreed safety and quality requirements as well as (as a minimum) comply with the local laws in the country in which they are provided to Sembcorp (see further the section titled "Compliance with laws" above).

Environment:

We expect all suppliers in all their operations, products and services to minimise the impact on the environment.

Resource consumption, pollution prevention and climate change mitigation

Suppliers must show that they are managing, measuring and minimising the environmental impact of their operations including reductions on emissions (including greenhouse gas emissions), waste, energy and water consumption.

Environmental standards and regulations

Suppliers are required to ensure that they comply with all our corporate and site-specific environmental standards when conducting work on Sembcorp sites.

Acknowledgement

Acknowledgement of the Code is a pre-requisite in every Sembcorp contract for supply. Through the signature of the contract and acceptance of the purchase order, the supplier confirms that its operations fulfil the requirements contained in this Code and it shall be deemed incorporated and form a part of any contract or relevant order with Sembcorp.
